INDEX TO VOLUME CXXXV.

Abbe, R. Tubercular peritonitis, 145; intradural section of the spinal nerves for neuralgia, 329, 342.

Abdominal Surgery. Cholelithiasis and cholelithotomy, Dunn, C. H., 142; a few recent cases bearing upon the question of operative interference in abdominal ailments, MacLean, D., 143; cases of abdominal surgery occurring in the first surgical service of the Boston City Hospital during the four months' summer service of 1895, Watson, F. S., 188, 258, 281.

Abortion. Criminal abortion, Phillips, C. A., 418; criminal abortion, Hoitt, E. G., 541; a case of general septic peritonitis following abortion, Tuttle, A. H., 623.

Abscess. Subphrenic abscess and its relation to pyothorax, Beck, C., 140; treatment of cold abscesses, Gage, H., 253.

Acromegaly. A case of acromegaly treated with thyroid extract, Sears, G. G., 16.

Adenitis. The treatment of cervical adenitis, Briggs, F. M., 561, 572.

Adler, L. H. The treatment of cancer of the rectum, 166.

Alcohol. The effect of alcohol on the organs of special sense, Grosvenor, J. W., 115; increased inebriety under the Raines law, 272.

Alexander, L. S. The treatment of snake bites, 326.

Allen, C. W. Some glycosuric dermatoses, 551; impetigo contagiosa universalis, 574.

Alopecia. The etiology of alopecia areata, 247.

Alvarez, M. Summary of sanitary legislation in the State of Mexico, 602.

Ambulances in England, 477.

Anatomy. The progress of anatomy during the past twenty-four years, Dwight, T., 545.

Anemia. Pernicious anemia, a study of fifty cases, Cabot, R. C., 104, 130.

Anesthesia. The jubilee of anesthesia, 322; reminiscences of 1846, Davis, W. T., 377; surgery before the days of anesthesia, Ashhurst, J. Jr., 378; what has anesthesia done for surgery? Cheever, D. W., 381; anesthesia in obstetrics, Reynolds, J. P., 382; the surgery of the future, McBurney, C., 384; the birth and death of pain, Mitchell, S. W., 386; the celebration of the semi-centennial of anesthesia, 393; the record of the first public administration of ether, 396; first public operation under ether; the account of an eye-witness, Ayer, W., 397; the blessings of anesthetics, Lister, J., 397; the jubilee of anesthesia, 399; the influence of anesthesia upon medical science, Welch, W. H., 401; the semi-centennial of anesthesia, 424; who was the hero of the ether celebration? 425; the jubilee of anesthesia, opinions of the profession, 425; the first use of ether in midwifery, 427; a plea for Gilbert Abbott, Homans, J., 427; anesthesia: a letter from Rt. Rev. Monsignor Doane, 455; a case of death under ether anesthesia, Garceau, E., 491; notes on anesthesia, oxygen after ether, Blake, J. B., 492; the first administration of ether in Ireland, 610; who discovered anesthesia and gave "painless surgery" to the world? Ayer, W., 633.

Ankle. The treatment of caries of the ankle-joint, Scudder, C. L., 287.

Annus medicus, 681.

Antitoxin. The report of the American Pediatric Society's collective investigation into the use of antitoxin in the treatment of diphtheria in private practice, 6; the present status of diphtheria antitoxin, 25; nine cases of intubation treated with antitoxin, Stevens, C. B., 42; antitoxin in the treatment of diphtheria, McCollom, J. H., 153; treatment of diseases other than diphtheria by antitoxin, Jackson, H., 207; the action of the American Pediatric Society upon its first antitoxin report, 398; second antitoxin collective investigation by the American Pediatric Society, 398.

Appendicitis. The technique of removing the appendix vermiformis cæci, with the report of one hundred cases, Johnson, M. M., 165; a record of the technique of operation for appendicitis from the standpoint of personal experience, Warren, J. C., 429, 441; a modification of the McBurney incision for appendectomy, Elliot, J. W., 433, 441; a case of appendicitis of the rapid, fulminating kind; early operation; use of Mixter's tube; recovery, Hurd, E. P., 544; appendicitis; or, to operate or not to operate, Dunn, J. H., 679.

Army medical service in England, 327; the medical department in time of war, La Garde, L. A., 585.

Ashhurst, J., Jr. Surgery before the days of anesthesia, 378.

Athletics. Some Vassar athletic records, 225.

Austin, H. W. A case of tetanus, speedy recovery after treatment with tetanus antitoxin, 289.

Authorities. Give the full name of authorities quoted, Tyson, J., 479.

Ayer, W. First public operation under ether, the account of an eye-witness, 397; who discovered anesthesia and gave "painless surgery" to the world? 633.

Babcock, R. H. A report of a case illustrating the value of secondary physical signs in the diagnosis of cardiac diseases, 680.

Bacteria in diseases of the skin, 118.

Bacteriology. The virulence of the diphtheria bacilli occasionally found in the throat in cases presenting the clinical features of follicular tonsillitis, Briggs, H. M., 22.

Baker, W. H. Ovarian cystoma, with unusually thick cyst wall, 522, 527; multiple fibroids of the uterus, 567.

Barclay, W. F. Diseases of the nose and throat in children, 681.

Barnaldez, F. de P. Study of the pathogeny, etiology and prophylaxis of typhus, 600.

Baths. Baths and bathing at the public schools, 71; baths, bathing and swimming for soldiers, Chase, H. L., 212, 236.

Bath-tub. A bed bath-tub for fever patients, Townsend, C. W., 525.

Beach, H. H. A. Exploration and treatment of fissures from skull fractures, 141.

Beck, C. Subphrenic abscess and its relation to pyothorax, 140.

Becker, A. R. Salt River Valley, Arizona, 565.

Bennett, E. H. The necessity of county medical societies in Maine, 417.

Bergey, D. H. A rational basis for prophylactic measures against pulmonary tuberculosis, 241.

Bibliography. Agnew, W. P., hemorrhoids and other non-malignant rectal diseases, 658; Black, D. C., the urine in health and disease, and urinary analysis, physiologically and pathologically considered, 117; Boislinière, L. C., obstetric accidents, emergencies and operations, 601; Boston City Hospital, annual report, 119; Broca, A., and Maubrac, P., traité de chirurgie cérébrale, 604; "Climate and Health," discontinuance, 123; Cocke, J. R., blind leaders of the blind; the romance of a blind lawyer, 297; Daniell, A., physics for students of medicine, 70; Deaver, J. B., a treatise on appendicitis, 658; Dorland, W. A. N., a manual of obstetrics, 576; Fothergill, W. E., manual of midwifery, 605; Gamgee, A., a text-book of the physiological chemistry of the animal body, including an account of the chemical changes occurring in disease, 420; Gant, S. G., diagnosis and treatment of diseases of the rectum, anus, and contiguous textures, 270; Gould, G. M., borderland studies, 69; Haig, A., uric acid as a factor in the causation of disease, 658; Halliburton, W. D., the essentials of chemical physiology, 420; Hammarsten, O., a text-book of physiological chemistry, 420; Hare, H. A., practical diagnosis: the use of symptoms in the diagnosis of disease, 369; Haynes, I. S., a manual of anatomy, 117; Hogan, L. E., how to feed children, 576; Humane Society of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, 603; Ingraham, C. W., don'ts for consumptives; or, the scientific management of pulmonary tuberculosis, 198; Jacobi, A., the therapeutics of infancy and childhood, 94; Japan, annual report of the central sanitary bureau attached to the home department of the Imperial Japanese Government, 575; Johns Hopkins Hospital Reports, Vol. V, 93; Johnson, G., history of the cholera controversy, with directions for the treatment of the disease, 576; Lang, A., text-book of comparative anatomy, 94; Lockwood, G. R., a manual of the practice of medicine, 392, 553; Long, J. H., an elementary course in experimental and analytical chemistry, 118; Mandel, J. A., handbook for the Bio-Chemical Laboratory, 420; Massachusetts Health Report, 629; Medical News visiting list for 1897, 530; Medical Record visiting list and physician's diary for 1897, 553; Ord, W. M., the climates and baths of Great Britain, 70; Playter, E., consumption; its nature, causes and prevention, 605; Pollaillon, affections chirurgicales du tronc, 658; Pringle, J. J., a pictorial atlas of skin diseases and syphilitic affections, 94; Regnier, L. R., traitement des maladies des femmes par l'électricité, 553; Roux, F., formulaire aide-mémoire de la faculté de médecine et des médecins des hôpitaux de Paris, 270; Smith, J. L., a treatise on the medical and surgical diseases of infancy and childhood, 576; Snow, H., the condition of radical cure in cancer; tumors of the breast which are "dispersible" without operation; the conversion of benign tumors into cancer; the practical outcome of recent researches on cancer, 297; Spalteholz, W., hand-atlas der anatomie des menschen, 553; Stedman, T. L., twentieth century practice, 118, 369; Stephenson, S., epidemic ophthalmia: its symptoms, diagnosis, and management, 603; Sternberg, G. M., a text-book of bacteriology, 449, 553; Taylor, R. W., the pathology and treatment of venereal diseases, 557; Thane, G. D., and Godlee, R. J., superficial and surgical anatomy, 24.

Bicycle. Bicycle riding for the unsound, Turner, E. B., 71; bicycle accidents, 95; bicycle in its sanitary aspect, Gihon, A. L., 628.
Biggs, H. M. The virulence of the diphtheria bacilli occasionally found in the throat in cases presenting the clinical features of follicular tonsillitis, 22.
Bile. Cholelithiasis and cholelithotomy, Dunn, C. H., 142.
Biography. Arnold, J. A., 610; Bailey, C. I., 610; Baker, W. H., 480; Bernacki, C., 373; Burchard, T. H., 533; Chapin, H. C., 480; Cheney, O. D., 480; Choate, G. C. S., 100, Cholmeley, W., 76; Cortelyon, L., 174; Davis, H. G., 581; Down, J. L., 480; Dunlap, J., 176; Ellsworth, P. W., 584; Erichsen, J. E., 352, 454; Fessenden, C. S. D., 124, 174; Fifield, W. C. B., 303; Gray, W. K., 73; Grove, W., 152; Guleke, H. F., 225; Harley, G., 480; Heitzmann, C., 633; Holyoke, W. C., 508; Kittredge, C. F., 249; Langan, J. T., 506; Leavitt, J. H., 352; Leloir, 100; Lewin, G., 536; Mackenzie, J. M., 76; Manning, F. A., 640; Markoe, G. F. H., 352; Martin, H. N., 584; Milne, C., 373; Mixwell, A. J., 477; Mott, H. A., 533; Mulford, S. S., 300; Nichols, W., 533; Pierce, F. W., 456; Prentiss, A. N., 201; Pressy, W. L., 173; Rankin, F. H., 535; Renvers, 72; Reymond, E. Dubl., 692; Reynolds, J. R., 73; Richardson B. W., 584; Ring, F. W., 97; Robinson, J. L., 313; Rochard, J. E., 508; Roeth, A. G., 636; Rudinger, N., 228, 299; Sanford, L. J., 636; Sass, L. J., 579; Schiff, M., 508; Sexton, S., 73; Smith, A. M., 535; Swift, S., 149; Taylor, W. R., 396; Villa, L., 152; Weil, M., 149; Weinholtz, C. H., 174; Wellington, W. W., 480, 610; Wigglesworth, E., 547; Woodruff, W. H., 610; Woolly, C. N., 633.
Blake, J. B. Notes on anesthesia, oxygen after ether, 492.
Blech, G. Treatment of some inflammatory diseases of the gastro-intestinal tract, 657.
Boeckmann, E. Surgical sterilization and sterilizers in private practice, 167; operative treatment of pterygium, 680.
Boland, E. S. Extra-uterine pregnancy from the standpoint of the general practitioner, 136, 161.
Bone. Idiopathic osteopsathyrosis in infancy and childhood, Griffith, J. P. C., 20; painful points in gouty, compared with rheumatic arthritis, Thompson, W. H., 21; the remedial applications of bone marrow, Quine, W. E., 113.
Booth, J. A. Edema of the eyelids in Graves's disease; thyroidectomy, 390.
Boston. The dangers of life in Boston as viewed by a Westerner, 373; Boston's public institutions, 421.
Boston Medical Library. The crying needs of the Boston Medical Library, Burrage, W. L., 635.
Bowditch, V. Y. The treatment of phthisis in sanitaria near our homes, 125.
Bowen, J. T. Report on dermatology, 261; mycosis fungoides and sarcomatosis cutis, 550.
Boyd, G. M. A case of Porro-Cæsarean section, 325.
Brackett, E. G. Principles of treatment of lateral curvature, 229.
Bradford, E. H. Lorenz's operation in congenital dislocation of the hip, 205; the treatment of abscess in high dorsal caries, 269; on the compression of the front of the feet, 434.
Brain. Four cases of brain injury, Oliver, J. C., 142; the exploration of the brain with a needle and syringe through capillary holes drilled through the skull, Sauchon, E., 165; tumor of thalamus, Channing, W., 346; the ectal relations of the right and left parietal and paroccipital fissures, Wilder, B. G., 366.
Bramwell, M. Remarkable instance of the appreciation of the passage of time during hypnosis, 98.
Breast. On the treatment of inoperable cases of carcinoma of the breast; suggestions for a new method of treatment, 323; the results of operations for the cure of cancer of the breast, Warren, J. C., 481, 495, 509; observations upon cancer of the breast, Cabot, A. T., 485; Paget's disease of the nipple, Jackson, G. T., 548; two cases of carcinoma of the breast in young adults, Shober, J. B., 593.
Brewer, G. E., and Bailey, P. Clinical and pathological report of a case of cerebral syphilis, 471.
Briggs, F. M. The treatment of cervical adenitis, 561, 572.
Brophy, T. W. A new operation for cleft palate, 656.
Brown, F. T. Renal tuberculosis, 472.
Brown, M. L. Cholera infantum, 567.
Browning, W. Pitting about the hair-cups a trophic change in the skin in certain nervous disorders of central origin, 368.
Bryce, P. H. Report of the committee on river conservancy boards of supervision, 627.
Bryson, J. P. Report of two cases of urethrotomy with transplantation for urethral strictures, 446; two cases of prostatectomy; prostatectomy on a monorchid, 474.
Bubonic Plague. Alleged cure for bubonic plague, Yersin, 301.
Buckner, J. H. Rupture of the choroid coat, 681.
Bullard, W. N. The surgical treatment of spastic paralysis, 240.
Burns, R. Identification of a human skeleton, 539.
Burrage, W. L. Removal of the uterus for cancer of the cervix, 444; the crying needs of the Boston Medical Library, 635.
Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W. Report on surgical progress, 568, 594, 623.
Cabot, A. T. Five cases of rupture of the urethra treated by external urethrotomy and suture, 57; does additional experience show that castration is a curative remedy in the treatment of hypertrophy of the prostate gland? 168; a case of sarcoma of the scapula, 411; five cases of rupture of the urethra treated by external urethrotomy and suture, 445; observations upon cancer of breast, 485.
Cabot, R. C. Pernicious anemia, a study of fifty cases, 104, 130.
Caille, A. Tapping the vertebral canal, 197.
Cancer. A case of prolonged anuria and a case of complete removal of carcinoma of the neck, Harrington, F. B., 337; the results of operations for the cure of cancer of the breast, Warren, J. C., 481, 495, 509; observations upon cancer of the breast, Cabot, A. T., 485.
Casselberry, W. E. Intubation in an adult, with special reference to acute stenosis of the larynx, 499.
Centenarians. The old-world centenarians, 274.
Chacon, A. On measures for the prevention of blindness, 602.
Channing, W. Tumor of thalamus, 346.
Chaput's anastomosis buttons, Cumston, C. G., 93,
Charaka Samhita, 451.
Chase, H. L. Baths, bathing and swimming for soldiers, 212, 236.
Cheever, D. W. What has anesthesia done for surgery? 381; medicine as a trade, 613; medicine as a profession, 637.
Chemistry. Report on chemistry, Hills, W. B., 110.
Cheney, F. E. A case of tuberculosis of the conjunctiva probably primary, followed by general infection and death, 490.
Chicago's method of determining its death-rate, 150.
Child Life-Insurance. Wanted £2 15s., 454.
Children. Report on diseases of children, Rotch, T. M., and Wentworth, A. H., 18; mortality of children, its causes and means of diminishing it, Garciadiego, S., 628.
Chittenden, R. H. Nucleins and nucleoproteids in their relation to internal secretion, 184.
Cholelithiasis and cholelithotomy, Dunn, C. H., 142.
Cholera Infantum, Brown, M. L., 567.
Chorea. Habit chorea, Sinkler, W., 21.
Christian, H. M. Duration of acute gonorrhea, 474.
Circulatory System. Tachycardia with sudden resumption of normal pulse-rate, Thayer, A. S., 139; ligation of the external carotid artery in conjunction with exsection of the jaws and of the inoperable diseases of the same, Nicholson, W. P., 165; serious heart lesions without well-marked continuous physical signs, Elsner, H. L., 242; congenital narrowing of the mitral orifices as a cause of dwarfed lives and irritable heart, Curtin, R. G., 242; report on progress in thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., 361; arterio-sclerosis, Prescott, W. H., 588, 597; a case of syphilis of the heart, Coggeshall, F., 590, 599; on the importance of physical signs other than murmur in the diagnosis of valvular disease of the heart, Herrick, J. B., 680; a report of a case illustrating the value of secondary physical signs in the diagnosis of cardiac diseases, Babcock, R. H., 680.
Cleary. History of yellow fever in Rio de Janeiro, 75.
Climate. Some of the difficulties of climato-therapy, Walker, J. B., 219; the Pocono Plateau, Judd, L. D., 220; the influence of climate on genito-urinary tuberculosis, Munro, J. C., 221.
Club-Foot. The treatment of club-foot, Thorndike, A., 254.
Codman, E. A. Practical medical use of the x-ray, 50.
Codman, E. A., and Thomson, E. The cause of burns from x-rays, 610.
Coggeshall, F. A case of syphilis of the heart, 590, 599.
Coggin, D. Some cases of hemianopsia, one of which was monocular, 645.
Cole, R. B. Address before the American Medical Association, 44.
Collins, J. Does antisyphilitic treatment prevent the occurrence of the diseases of the nervous system which are considered syphilitic in their origin? 366.
Colorado. The pulmonary invalid in Colorado, Edson, C. E., 107.
Conant, W. M. Inflammations of the uterus and tubes, 495.
Constipation. Some odd bits on constipation; some of its effects and its non-medicinal treatment, Pettijohn, E. S., 115.
Consumptives' homes on public parks, Withington, C. F., 50.
Coolidge, A., Jr. The control of hemorrhage in some operations on the nose and throat, 501.
Cooper, H. P. Gastrotomy for stricture of the esophagus by the Sbani-Jew Frank method, 166.
Coulter, J. H. Tonsillotomy by cautery dissection, 678.
Courtney, J. W. Acute anterior poliomyelitis, 617.
Craig Colony. Progress at Craig Colony for epileptics since the opening, 476.
Cuillerre. Suggestion in urinary incontinence, 326.
Cumston, C. G. Notes on Dr. Chaput's anastomosis buttons, 93.
Cures. The way some cures are made, 274.
Curtin, R. G. Congenital narrowing of the mitral orifices as a cause of dwarfed lives and irritable heart, 242.
Cushing, H. W. Excision and erasion of the knee, 286.
Cutaneous System. Bacteria in diseases of the skin, 118; report on dermatology, Bowen, J. T., 261; infantile eczema, Williamson, W. D., 418; annual address before the American Dermatological Association, Robinson, A. R., 547; Paget's disease of the nipple, Jackson, G. T., 548; symmetrical morphea attended with formation of bullæ and ulceration, Morrow, P. A., 549; a pathological and clinical classification of diseases of the skin, Duhring, L. A., 549; a peculiar affection of the mucous membrane of the lips and mouth, Fordyce, 550; a favus-like eruption of the oral mucous membrane caused by aspergillus nigrescens, Winfield, J. MacF., 550; mycosis fungoides and sarcomatosis cutis, Bowen, J. T., 550; xanthoma diabeticorum, Robinson, A. R., 551; some glycosuric dermatoses, Allen, C. W., 551; a case of hypertrophic rosacea (pachydermatosis) resembling tubercular leprosy, cured with thyroid extract, Dyer, 573; the relation of dermatitis herpetiformis to erythema multiforme and to pemphigus, Duhring, L. A., 573; eruptions from the local use of iodoform, Fordyce, 574; impetigo contagiosa universalis, Allen, C. W., 574; dermatitis caused by x-rays, White, J. C., 583.
Cutler, E. G. A case of peripheral polyneuritis following delivery, 620, 625.
Dana, C. L. On a method of relieving tic douloureux, 21.
Davenport, F. H. The diagnosis of small ovarian tumors, 353, 365.
Davis, W. T. Reminiscences of 1846, 377.
Death-rate. Chicago's method of determining its death-rate, 150.
Dercum, F. X. The functions of the neuron, 345.
Dercum, F. X., and Spiller, W. G. A case of syringomyelia limited to one posterior horn in the cervical region, with arthropathy of the shoulder-joint and ascending degeneration in the pyramidal tracts, 367.
Dermatology. Report on dermatology, Bowen, J. T., 261.
Development. The relation of physical development to intellectual ability, West, G. W., 226.
Diabetes. Treatment of diabetes mellitus, Pfaff, F., 234, 245.
Diagnosis. The relationship of diagnosis to the future surgical progress, Grant, H. H., 679.
Digestive System. A case of esophageal hemorrhage, with cirrhosis of the liver, Garland, G. M., 23; on absorption in the stomach, Meltzer, S. J., 24; remarks upon intestinal obstruction from kinks and flexures as the result of pelvic operations and inflammation with especial reference to hysterectomies, Richardson, M. H., 32, 43; celiotomy for intestinal adhesions, Washburn, G. H., 41; a feat of intestinal peristalsis, Runge, E. C., 110; some odd bits on constipation: some of its effects and its non-medicinal treatment, Pettijohn, E. S., 115; intestinal antisepsis, diet and castration in relation to epilepsy, Flood, E., 115; early diagnosis of carcinoma of the stomach by means of chemical analysis of the gastric contents, Weber, W. C., 115; some mechanical causes of interference with the action of the stomach and their surgical relief, Mayo, W. J., 164; the technique of removing the appendix vermiformis cecl, with the report of one hundred cases, Johnson, M. M., 165; gastrostomy for stricture of the esophagus, by the Sbani-Jew Frank method, Cooper, H. P., 166; the treatment of cancer of the rectum, Adler, L. H., 166; intestinal obstruction from a large gall-stone: operation, recovery, Harrington, F. B., 219; the classification of the dyspepsias, 222; treatment of diabetes mellitus, Pfaff, F., 234, 245; a case of esophageal hemorrhage, with cirrhosis of the liver, Garland, G. M., 277; obstruction of the bowels caused by grape skins and seeds, Thornton, J. B., 339; nerve disturbance from indigestion, Upson, H. S., 390; a record of the technique of operation for appendicitis from the standpoint of personal experience, Warren, J. C., 429; a modification of the McBurney incision for appendectomy, Elliot, J. W., 433, 441; acute intussusception in a boy of six, Warren, J. C., 445; treatment of some inflammatory diseases of the gastro-intestinal tract, Blech, G., 657; conditions which may simulate organic obstruction of the rectum, Manley, T. H., 678.

Diller, T. Progressive muscular atrophy of sudden onset, 367.

Diploma for thirty-five dollars "all inclusive," 533.

Dispensaries. Dispensaries and their use in teaching, Fussell, M. H., 24; the centennial of the establishment of the Boston Dispensary, 394; Boston Dispensary, 398.

Diphtheria. The report of the American Pediatric Society's collective investigation into the use of antitoxin in the treatment of diphtheria in private practice, 6; the virulence of the diphtheria bacilli occasionally found in the throat in cases presenting the clinical features of follicular tonsillitis, Biggs, H. M., 22; the present status of diphtheria antitoxin, 25; nine cases of intubation treated by antitoxin, Stevens, C. B., 42; diphtheria statistics at the Hôpital des Enfants Malades, Paris, 71; antitoxin in the treatment of diphtheria, McCollom, J. H., 153; nasal feeding in diphtheria, Jackson, H., 198; antitoxin treatment of diphtheria, 198; a diphtheria incident, Munn, W. P., 250; recent progress in the diagnosis and treatment of diphtheria, Small, W. B., 419; the prevention of the spread of diphtheria by means of the bacterial test, Williams, F. H., 582; report of the committee on the cause and the prevention of diphtheria, Kinyoun, J. J., 628; diphtheria in Chihuahua, Marquez, M., 628; bacteriological diagnosis as covering the admission and discharge of patients in diphtheria hospitals, Shuttleworth, E. B., 628; the antitoxic unit of diphtheria antitoxin, 632.

Disinfectant. The practical use of formic aldehyde as a disinfectant, Robinson, F. C., 627.

Doane, G. H. Anesthesia: a letter from Rt. Rev. Monsignor Doane, 455.

Duckworth, D. The prognosis of disease, 227.

Duhring, L. A. A pathological and clinical classification of the diseases of the skin, 549; the relation of dermatitis herpetiformis to erythema multiforme and to pemphigus, 573.

Dunn, C. H. Cholelithiasis and cholelithotomy, 142.

Dunn, J. H. Appendicitis; or, to operate or not to operate, 679.

Dwight, T. The progress of anatomy during the past twenty-four years, 545.

Dyer. A case of hypertrophic rosacea (pachydermatosis) resembling tubercular leprosy, cured with thyroid extract, 573.

Dyspepsia. The classification of the dyspepsias, 222.

Ear. Othematoma, with report of a case, Webster, G. A., 338; acute suppuration of the middle ear, followed by caries of the Fallopian canal and facial paralysis; no involvement of the mastoid cells, Jack, F. L., 649.

Eczema. Infantile eczema, Williamson, W. D., 418.

Edes, R. T. Tumor attached to the cerebellar peduncles and overlying the fourth ventricle, 410.

Editorials. The present status of diphtheria antitoxin, 25; present status of expert testimony, 46; eighteenth century pharmacy, 47; baths and bathing at public schools, 70; diphtheria statistics at the Hôpital des Enfants Malades, Paris, 71; the surgical treatment of focal epilepsy, 95; bicycle accidents, 95; bacteria in diseases of the skin, 118; the annual report of the Boston City Hospital, 119; neuroglia staining, 147; treatment of whooping-cough by bromoform, 148; the weather, 172; the treatment of gunshot wounds of the kidney, 172; New York during the hot week, 199; experimental production of blennorrhagia by pure cultures of the gonococcus, 200; the classification of the dyspepsias, 222; disciples of Father Kneipp in Central Park, 224; the etiology of alopecia areata, 247; trained nurses, 271; increased inebriety under the Raines law, 272; some statistics regarding medical education, 298; the jubilee of anesthesia, 322; on the treatment of inoperable cases of carcinoma of the mamma: suggestions for a new method of treatment, 323; hospitals for chronic and incurable cases, 347; the death of Sir John Erichsen, 370; transformation of the personality in the course of senile dementia, 371; the celebration of the semi-centennial of anesthesia, 393; the centennial of the establishment of the Boston Dispensary, 394; Boston public institutions, 421; annual report of supervising Surgeon-General of the Marine-Hospital Service, 422; on the treatment of hemoptysis, 450; charaka sambita, 451; serum diagnosis of typhoid fever, 475; progress at Craig Colony for epileptics since the opening, 476; final report of the Royal Commission on vaccination, 502; kleptomania, 504; the union of neurology and psychiatry, 531; the serum test as a method of diagnosis for typhoid fever, 532; another explanation of inflammation, 554; the decennial report of the English Registrar-General, Part I, 577; traumatic neuroses, 605; the Massachusetts health report, 629; the thermic cycle in acute infectious diseases, 630; the antitoxic unit of diphtheria antitoxin, 632; on the value of a knowledge of neurology, 659; shell-fish in relation to disease, 659; annus medicus, MDCCCXCVI, 681.

Edson, C. E. The pulmonary invalid in Colorado, 107.

Education. Some statistics regarding medical education, 298; report of the Committee on the Harvard Medical School, Homans, J., 2d, 314.

Elliott, G. M. Pulmonary tuberculosis, 418.

Elliot, J. W. A modification of the McBurney incision for appendectomy, 433, 441.

Ellis, F. W. The Javal ophthalmometer and the methods of testing its accuracy, 39.

Elsner, H. L. Serious heart lesions without well-marked continuous physical signs, 242.

Epilepsy. The surgical treatment of focal epilepsy, 95; castration in relation to epilepsy, Flood, E., 115; operative treatment of partial epilepsy, Sachs and Gerster, 326; the surgical treatment of focal epilepsy: a critical analysis of the result in nineteen cases, Sachs, B., and Gerster, A. G., 388; a contribution to the pathology of epilepsy, and a résumé of the utility of operation in epilepsy, Collins, J., and Wiener, A., 389; epilepsy and other convulsive diseases: a study in neuro-dynamics, Langdon, F. W., 392; progress at Craig Colony for epileptics since the opening, 476.

Erysipelas. The report of the New York Surgical Society upon erysipelas toxines, 150.

Esophagus. Gastrostomy for stricture of the esophagus, by the Sbani-Jew Frank method, Cooper, H. P., 166; a case of esophageal hemorrhage, with cirrhosis of the liver, Garland, G. M., 277.

Exner. The function of the hair in man, 350.

Extra-uterine Pregnancy from the standpoint of the general practitioner, Boland, E. S., 136, 161; extra-uterine pregnancy, Kelly, H., 141; extra-uterine pregnancy in Boston in the last fifteen years, Townsend, C. W., 470.

Eye. A case of extraction of a bit of copper from the vitreous where x-rays helped to locate the metal, Williams, C. H., 163; lesser errors of refraction and their effects upon the system, Moulton, W. B., 419; a case of tuberculosis of the conjunctiva, probably primary, followed by general infection and death, Cheney, F. E., 490; recent progress in ophthalmology, Standish, M., and Hall, W. D., 493, 522; two eye specimens, Williams, C. H., 495; the wearing of veils and its effect upon the eyesight, Wood, C. A., 564; some cases of hemianopsia, one of which was monocular, Coggin, D., 645; embolism of central artery, macula supplied by a cilio-retinal artery, retention of central vision, Wadsworth, O. F., 648; operative treatment of pterygium, Boeckmann, E., 680; subconjunctival injection in the treatment of certain diseases of the eye, Wilder, W. H., 680; rupture of the choroid coat, Buckner, J. H., 681.

Farenholt, A. A visit to the hospital of detention for lepers at Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, 251.

Fees. A country doctor's fees in 1831, 99.

Ferguson, A. H. Thoracoplasty in America (Schede's operation) and visceral pleurectomy, 140.

Fevers. Gangrene as a complication and sequel of the continued fevers, especially of typhoid, Keen, W. W., 1, 29; the study of the fevers of the South, Osler, W., 45.

Fisk, S. A. "News, old news," 216.

Fitz, G. W. Measurements in spinal curvature, 230.

Flood, E. Intestinal antisepsis, diet and castration in relation to epilepsy, 115.

Florida. Pneumonia in Florida, Fremont-Smith, F., 243.

Folsom, C. F. The prevalence and fatality of pneumonia, 55.

Food. Infant feeding, Morse, J. L., 293.

Foot. The anterior transverse arch of the foot, Goldthwait, J. E., 268; mechanical support for flat-foot, Schapps, J. C., 296; on the compression of the front of the feet, Bradford, E. H., 434; fracture of the first phalanx of little toe, Williams, H., 441; fracture of the first phalanx of the little toe, Vaughan, C. E., 583; fracture of the first phalanx of the little toe, Hopkins, J. D., 635.

Fordyce, J. A. Clinical and pathological notes on syphilis, 471; a peculiar affection of the mucous membrane of the lips and mouth, 550; eruption from the local use of iodoform, 574.

Fowler, G. R. Intra-thoracic tuberculosis, 145.

Fracture. The ambulatory treatment of fractures of the lower extremities, Pilcher, L. S., 169; delayed union of fracture of the leg in the case of a pregnant woman, Ham, J. R., 310; Röntgen rays in the treatment of fractures, 534; fracture of the first phalanx of the little toe, Vaughan, C. E., 583; fracture of the first phalanx of the little toe, Hopkins, J. D., 635.

Frank, J. A new method of fastening the round ligaments in Alexander's operation, with little disturbance to their anatomical relations, 678.

Frazer, W. F. The first administration of ether in Ireland, 610.

Freeman, R. G. Low-temperature Pasteurization of milk, 198.

Free Silver. The doctor, free silver, and free everything, 151.

Fremont-Smith, F. Pneumonia in Florida, 243.

Fuller, E. Good results following urethral resection, 447; operative interference in aggravated instances of seminal vesiculitis, 472.

Fussell, M. H. Dispensaries and their use in teaching, 24.

Futterer, G. Pleuritic effusions and their treatment, 679.

Gage, H. Treatment of cold abscesses, 253.

Galloupe, C. W. The foundling house in Moscow, 558.

Gambetta. The distribution of Gambetta, 426.

Gangrene as a complication and sequel of the continued fevers, especially of typhoid, Keen, W. W., 1, 29.

Garceau, E. Some affections of the female bladder, 256, 265; a case of death under ether anesthesia, 491.

Garciadiego, S. Mortality of children, its causes and means of diminishing it, 628.

Garland, G. M. A case of esophageal hemorrhage, with cirrhosis of the liver, 23, 277.

Gauze as a means of drainage, Thayer, F. C., 494.

Generative System. Remarks upon intestinal obstruction from kinks and flexures as the result of pelvic operations and inflammation, with especial reference to hysterectomies, Richardson, M. H., 32, 43; celiotomy for intestinal adhesions, Washburn, G. H., 41; castration in relation to epilepsy, Flood, E., 115; tuberculosis of the female genital organs (including tuberculosis of the kidney), Vander Veer, A., 145; does additional experience show that castration is a curative remedy in the treatment of hypertrophy of the prostate gland? Cabot, A. T., 168; the influence of climate on genito-urinary tuberculosis, Munro, J. C., 221; progress in gynecology, Reynolds, E., 290, 310; the diagnosis of small ovarian tumors, Davenport, F. H., 353, 365; removal of the uterus for cancer of the cervix, Burrage, W. L., 444; address before the American Association of Genito-Urinary Surgeons, Mastin, C. H., 445; the ultimate results in eighty-six cases of fibromata of the uterus treated by the Apostoli method, Massey, G. B., 454; a study of axis rotation, with especial reference to the torsion of ovarian tumors, Storer, M., 461, 470; two cases of urethral chancre, with unusual secondary symptoms, Tuttle, J. P., 471; operative interference in aggravated instances of seminal vesiculitis, Fuller, E., 472; two cases of prostatectomy: prostatectomy on a monorchid, Bryson, J. P., 474; the first ovariotomy, 478; fibroid tumor of ovary and fibroid tumor of uterus, Homans, J., 494; inflammations of the uterus and tubes, Conant, W. M., 495; virulent salpingitis, Richardson, M. H., 496; on the traumatic rupture of ovarian cysts, with report of a case, Storer, M., 518, 527; ovarian cystoma, with unusually thick cyst wall, Baker, W. H., 522, 527; multiple fibroids of the uterus, Baker, W. H., 567; treatment of cancer of the uterus, Johnson, F. W., 671, 675; a new method of fastening the round ligaments in Alexander's operation, with little disturbance to their anatomical relations, Frank, J., 678; woman and her diseases, versus gynecology, Newman, H. P., 679.

Getchell, A. C. A contribution to the study of laryngeal vertigo, 466.

Gihon, A. L. The bicycle in its sanitary aspect, 628.

Gillette, A. J. Report of cases of osteo-sarcoma of the hip, 296.

Glands. Treatment of cervical tuberculous adenitis, Ingalls, E. F., 220.

Goldsmith and Trinity College, 202.

Goodthwait, J. E. The anterior transverse arch of the foot, 268.

Gonorrhea. The abortion of gonorrhea and the treatment of other urethral and vesical diseases by hydrostatic irrigations, Valentine, F. C., 166; experimental production of blennorrhagia by pure cultures of the gonococcus, 209; duration of acute gonorrhea, Christian, H. M., 474; protection of the innocent from gonorrhea, Valentine, F. C., 629.

Goodale, J. L. An experimental study of the respiratory functions of the nose, 457, 487.

Graham, D. Massage run wild: too many manipulators, 374.

Grant, H. H. The relationship of diagnosis to the future surgical progress, 679.

Graves's Disease. Edema of the eyelids in Graves's disease: thyroidectomy, Booth, J. A., 390.

Griffith, J. P. C. Idiopathic osteopsathyrosis in infancy and childhood, 20.

Grosvenor, J. W. The effect of alcohol on the organs of special sense, 115.

Gynecology. Progress in gynecology, Reynolds, E., 290, 310.

Hair. The function of the hair in man, 350.

Hall, H. J. The mobility of the normal spine in recumbency, 288.

Hall, J. N. The value of the pulmonic second sound, 116; a study of cicatrices with reference to right- and left-handedness and ambidexterity, 619.

Hallux Valgus. On the formation of hallux valgus, Kucher, J., 559.

Ham, J. R. Delayed union of fracture of the leg in the case of a pregnant woman, 310.

Hand. A study of cicatrices with reference to right- and left-handedness and ambidexterity, Hall, J. N., 619.

Harding, G. F. A case of syphilis in mother and child, with unusual history, 85.

Harrington, C. Hygienic, therapeutic, dietetic and economic facts concerning extracts of malt, 669.

Harrington, F. B. Intestinal obstruction from a large gall-stone: operation, recovery, 219; a case of prolonged anuria and a case of complete removal of carcinoma of the neck, 337; on the action of commercial lithia water, 644.

Hemoptysis. The treatment of hemoptysis, Quimby, C. E., 221; on the treatment of hemoptysis, 450.

Hemp. The Indian Lancet on the hemp habit, 97.

Herrick, J. B. On the importance of physical signs other than murmur in the diagnosis of valvular disease of the heart, 180.

Hills, W. B. Report on chemistry, 110.

Hip. Lorenz's operation in congenital dislocation of the hip, Bradford, E. H., 205; spontaneous dislocation of the hip, Taylor, W. J., 268; femoral osteotomy for correction of hip deformity in adults, with a report of cases, Shands, A. R., 295; report of cases of osteo-sarcoma of the hip, Gillette, A. J., 296.

Hoitt, E. G. Criminal abortion, 541.

Homans, J. A plea for Gilbert Abbott, 427; fibroid tumor of ovary and fibroid tumor of uterus, 494.

Homans, John, 2d. Report of the Committee on the Harvard Medical School, 314.

Hopkins, S. D. Fracture of first phalanx of the little toe, 635.

Horibeck, H. D. Dengue, 601.

Hospitals for chronic and incurable cases, 347.

Hubbard. Le R. W. The treatment of Pott's paraplegia, 297.

Hubbard, T. Treatment of acute laryngitis and bronchitis, 501; squamous epithelioma of velum palati cured by injection of caustic potash, 502.

Hughes, C. H. The psycho-neural factor in clinical medicine, 656.

Hurd, E. P. A case of appendicitis of the rapid, fulminating kind; early operation; use of Mixter's tube; recovery, 544.

Hutchinson, M. Method of commitment to the Massachusetts Hospital for dipsomaniacs and inebriates, 274.

Hydrophobia. Newspaper rabies, Rosse, I. C., 391.

Hygienic, therapeutic, dietetic and economic facts concerning extracts of malt, Harrington, C., 669.

Hypnosis. Remarkable instance of the appreciation of the passage of time during hypnosis, Bramwell, M., 98.

Hypnotism. A case of hypnotic suggestion, Rovinsky, A., 582.

Ice Cream. English ice cream, 98.

Infant feeding, Morse, J. L., 293.

Infectious diseases. The thermic cycle in acute infectious diseases, 630.

Inflammation. Another explanation for inflammation, 554.

Influenza and suicide, 274.

Ingalls, E. F. Treatment of cervical tuberculous adenitis, 220.

Insomnia. A simple cure for insomnia, 301.

Instruments and Apparatus. The Javal ophthalmometer and the methods of testing its accuracy, Ellis, F. W., 39; an oral camera for Röntgen photography, Rollins, W., 90; gauze as a means of drainage. Thayer, F. C., 464; a bed bath-tub for fever patients, Townsend, C. W., 525.

Insurance. Child life-insurance – wanted £2 15s., 454.

Intubation. The evolution of intubation, O'Dwyer, J., 197.

Iodoform. Eruption from the local use of iodoform, Fordyce, 574.

Jack, F. L. Acute suppuration of the middle ear, followed by caries of the Fallopian canal and facial paralysis; no involvement of the mastoid cells, 649.

Jackson, G. T. Paget's disease of the nipple, 548.

Jackson, H. Nasal feeding in diphtheria, 198; treatment of diseases other than diphtheria by antitoxin, 207.

Javal ophthalmometer and the means of testing its accuracy, Ellis, F. W., 39.

Jenner centennial in Japan, 98.

Johnson, F. W. Carcinoma of the right kidney, 59; treatment of cancer of the uterus, 671, 675.

Johnson, M. M. The technique of removing the appendix vermiformis cœci, with the report of one hundred cases, 165.

Johnston, W. The serum test for typhoid fever, 627.

Judd, L. D. The Pocono plateau, 220.

Keen, W. W. Gangrene as a complication and sequel of the continued fevers, especially of typhoid, 1, 29; the treatment of traumatic lesions of the kidney, 170.

Keen, W. W. and Thomas, H. M. A large tumor removed from the brain with wide opening of the lateral ventricle, 389.

Kelley, H. Extra-uterine pregnancy, 141.

Kennedy, J. F. Infectiousness of milk, 670.

Ketch, S. Suppuration in joint and spinal disease and its relation to tubercular meningitis; an analytical study, 269.

Kidney. The treatment of traumatic lesions of the kidney, Keen, W. W., 170.

Kimball, J. E. The significance of a purulent discharge from the nose, 418.

King, A. The use of antitoxin accompanied by a convulsion, 309.

Kinyoun, J. J. Report of the committee on the cause and the prevention of diphtheria, 628.

Kleptomania, 504.

Knapp, P. C. The influence of overwork in school in the production of nervous diseases in childhood, 37; the nature of neurasthenia and its relation to morbid fears and imperative ideas, 407.

Knee. Excision and erasion of the knee, Cushing, H. W., 286; a method for the gradual reduction of flexion and subluxation of the knee, Young, E. B., 360.

Kneipp. Disciples of Father Kneipp in Central Park, 224.

Knight, C. H. The sequelæ of syphilis of the nose, 501.

Knight, F. I. Laryngeal vertigo, 219.

Kucher, J. On the formation of hallux valgus, 559.

La Garde, L. A. The medical department in time of war, 585.

Laminectomy. Eight cases of laminectomy, Wyeth, J. A., 167.

Langdon, F. W. Epilepsy and other convulsive diseases, a study in neuro-dynamics, 392.

Larynx. Laryngeal vertigo, Knight, F. I., 219; intubation in an adult, with special reference to acute stenosis of the larynx, Casselberry, W. E., 499; catarrhal laryngitis, Rice, C. C., 500; the control of hemorrhage in some operations on the nose and throat, Coolidge, A., Jr., 501; treatment of acute laryngitis and bronchitis, Hubbard, T., 501.

Latin. The pronunciation of Latin, Tupper, F. A., 663.

Leal, J. L. Isolation hospitals, 603.

Learned, J. B. A method of inviting sleep, 251.

Lecky. On women as antivivisectionists, 150.

Lee, B. The quick or the dead, 602.

Lee, E. How to cure rheumatism, 114.

Legal Medicine. Present status of expert testimony, 47; criminal abortion, Phillips, C. A., 418; two cases of medico-legal interest, Pinkham, J. G., 537; identification of a human skeleton, Burns, R., 539; criminal abortion, Hoitt, E. G., 541; the legal value of dying declarations, March, D., 543.

Leidy, J. Notes on infantile scurvy, 437.

Leprosy. A visit to the Hospital of Detention for lepers at Honolulu, Hawaiian Island, Farenholt, A., 251; work amongst lepers, 301.

Library. The crying needs of the Boston Medical Library, Burrage, W. L., 635.

Liceaga, E. The nomenclature of diseases and forms of statistics, 601; address before the American Public Health Association, 601; study of yellow fever from a medico-geographical point of view, 603.

Lister, J. The blessings of anesthetics, 397.

Lithia. On the action of commercial lithia water, Harrington, F. B., 644.

Liquor and politics in New York City, 506.

Liver. Tumor of the liver, Elliot, J. W., 62.

Lloyd, J. H., and Sailer, J. Rapidly fatal cerebritis resembling cerebro-spinal meningitis, 368.

Longevity. Medical longevity, Salzmann, 74.

Lorenz's operation in congenital dislocation of the hip, Bradford, E. H., 205.

Lothrop, H. A. Tetany with a report of cases, 513, 529.

Love, I. N. Water, 680.

Lund, F. B. A case of secondary suture of the patella, 338.

Macdonald, W. G. "Practical hints for vaccinators," 350.

MacLean, D. A few recent cases bearing upon the question of operative interference in abdominal ailments, 143.

McBurney, C. Address before the Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 316; the surgery of the future, 384.

McCollom, J. H. Antitoxin in the treatment of diphtheria, 153.

Malignant disease. The modern treatment of malignant disease, Warren, J. C., 665, 675.

Manges, M. The treatment of enteric fever by other methods, 654.

Mankind and the doctor, Rogers, O. F., 305.

Manley, T. H. Conditions which may simulate organic obstruction of the rectum, 678.

Manning J. F. Should the increasing tendency to specialties in the medical profession be encouraged, 418.

March, D., Jr. The legal value of dying declarations, 543.

Marine-Hospital Service. Annual report of the supervising surgeon-general of the Marine-Hospital Service, 422.

Marquez, M. Diphtheria in Chihuahua, 628.

Massey, G. B. The ultimate results in eighty-six cases of fibromata of the uterus treated by the Apostoli method, 454.

Mastin, C. H. Address before the American Association of Genito-Urinary Surgeons, 445.

Martindale, W. Pharmaceutical progress in the last quarter century, 250.

Mason, A. L. The baths of Nauheim in heart diseases, 302.
Massage run mad; too many manipulators, Graham, D., 374.
Materia Medica and Therapeutics. The report of the American Pediatric Society's collective investigation into the use of antitoxin in the treatment of diphtheria in private practice, 6; a case of acromegaly treated with thyroid extract, Sears, G. G., 16; mescal buttons (anhalonium Lewinii), Prentiss, D. W., and Morgan, F. P., 24; the present status of diphtheria antitoxin, 25; eighteenth century pharmacy, 47; the remedial applications of bone marrow, Quine, W. E. 113; the effect of alcohol on the organs of special sense, 115; treatment of whooping-cough by bromoform, 148; antitoxin in the treatment of diphtheria, McCollom, J. H., 153; the treatment of tuberculosis with tuberculin and its derivatives, Worcester, A., 177; treatment of disease, other than diphtheria by antitoxins, Jackson, H., 207; pharmaceutical progress in the last quarter-century, Martindale, W., 250; a clinical study of iodoform glycerine in tuberculous osteomyelitis, Sherman, H. M., 269; further observation on the use of hydrochloric acid in bone necrosis of tubercular origin, with report of cases, Waterman, J. H., 270; the use of dry heat of high temperature in the treatment of chronic joint affections, Wirt, W. E., 270; the use of antitoxin followed by a convulsion, King, A., 309; the action of the American Pediatric Society upon its first antitoxin report, 398; report of progress in therapeutics, Williams, F. H., 649.
Mayo, W. J. Some mechanical causes of interference with the action of the stomach and their surgical relief, 164.
Mays, T. J. Toxicoses of the nervous system as a cause of pulmonary consumption, 391.
Medical Journals. Changes in medical journalism in Edinburgh, 534.
Medicine as a trade, Cheever, D. W., 613; medicine as a profession, Cheever, D. W., 637.
Meltzer, S. J. On absorption in the stomach, 24.
Mendizabal, G. A contribution to the study of yellow fever in relation to epidemics in Cordova, 603.
Mescal buttons (anhalonium Lewinii), Prentiss, D. W., and Morgan, F. P., 24.
Metcalf, H. A case of myxedema, 440.
Metric System. The metric or the duodecimal system, Williams, E. T., 51.
Migraine. On periodical neuralgias of the trigeminal nerve and their relation to migraine, with special relation to the intermittent supra-orbital neuralgia, Putnam, J. J., 22, 53, 81.
Milk. Low temperature Pasteurization of milk, Freeman, R. G., 198; can civic legislation ensure good milk, 580.
Millais. The last illness of Sir John Millais, 273.
Mills, C. K., and Spiller, W. G. A case of cerebral abscess situated at the posterior part of the external capsule (involving the medullary substance of the first temporal convolution, also the posterior part of the ventricular nucleus and extending into the subthalmic region) with some considerations in regard to the constitution of the external bundles of fibres in the cerebral peduncle, 387.
Mind. Hemiplegia and dementia, Preston, G. J., 365; prognosis and duration of attacks of mental disease, Stedman, H. R., 367; transformation of the personality in the course of senile dementia, 371; prognosis and duration of acute attacks of mental disease, Stedman, H. R., 416; the union of neurology and psychiatry, 531.
Mitchell, H. The sanitary administration of unincorporated districts, 602.
Mitchell, S. W. The birth and death of pain, 386.
Mixter, S. J. The operative treatment of trifacial neuralgia, 143.
Monjaras, J. E. On the need of uniformity in the meaning of the term "still-born," 601.
Monks, G. H. A new method for the prevention of thumb-sucking in children, 673.
Moore, J. E. Tuberculosis of the wrist and carpus, 296.
Morrow, P. A. Symmetrical morphea attended with formation of bullæ and ulceration, 549.
Morse, J. L. Infant feeding, 293.
Morse, W. F. Disposal of garbage and waste of the household, 601.
Moscow. The foundling house in Moscow, Galloupe, C. W., 558.
Moulton, W. B. Lesser errors of refraction and their effects upon the system, 419.
Muldson, J. Public health in Tabasco, 627.
Mullins, G. Goldsmith and Trinity College, 202.
Munn, W. P. A diphtheria incident, 250.
Munro, J. C. The influence of climate on genito-urinary tuberculosis, 221.
Murphy, J. B. Indications for and demonstrations of removal of the Gasserian ganglion, 657.
Myelitis, a case in which the first symptoms appeared several weeks after the supposed cause, Webber, S. G., 469.
Myxedema. A case of myxedema, Metcalf, H., 440.
Nauheim. The baths of Nauheim in heart diseases, Mason, A. L., 302.
Neale, W. A winter diet in Franz-Josef land, 74.
Neck. Case of sarcoma of the neck treated by the Coley antitoxin, Warren, H. E., 673.
Nervous System. Habit chorea, Sinkler, W., 21; on a method of relieving tic douloureux, Dana, C. L., 21; the relations of migraine to neuralgias of the fifth nerve, Putnam, J. J., 22; the influence of overwork in school in the production of nervous diseases in childhood, Knapp, P. C., 37; on periodical neuralgias of the trigeminal nerve and their relation to migraine, with special relations to the intermittent supra-orbital neuralgia, Putnam, J. J., 53, 81; the surgical treatment of focal epilepsy, 95; castration in relation to epilepsy, Flood, E., 115; some experimental work on lumbar puncture of the subarachnoid space, Wentworth, A. H., 132, 156, 197; the operative treatment of trifacial neuralgia, Mixter, S. J., 143; eight cases of laminectomy, Wyeth, J. A., 167; a case of ideational sadism (sexual perversion), Prince, M., 194; tapping the vertebral canal, Caillé, A., 197; the surgical treatment of spastic paralysis, Bullard, W. N., 240; a case of tetanus, speedy recovery after treatment with tetanus antitoxin, Austin, H. W., 249; the treatment of Pott's paraplegia, Hubbard, LeR. W., 297; operative treatment of partial epilepsy, Sachs and Gerster, 326; intradural section of the spinal nerves for neuralgia, Abbé, R., 329, 342; the functions of the neuron, Dercum, F. X., 344; acute non-suppurative hemorrhagic encephalitis, Putnam, J. J., 345; cerebral complications of Raynaud's disease, Osler, W., 346; tumor of thalamus, Channing, W., 346; hemiplegia and dementia, Preston, G. J., 365; the ectal relations of the right and left parietal and paroccipital fissures, Wilder, B. G., 366; does antisyphilitic treatment prevent the occurrence of the diseases of the nervous system which are considered syphilitic in their origin? Collins, J., 366; paraplegia from hemorrhage into the spinal cord due to pernicious anemia, autopsy, Riggs, C. E., 367; progressive muscular atrophy of sudden onset, Diller, T., 367; a case of syringomyelia limited to one posterior horn in the cervical region, with arthropathy of the shoulder-joint and ascending degeneration in the pyramidal tracts, Dercum, F. X., and Spiller, W. G., 367; pitting about the hair-cups a trophic change in the skin in certain nervous disorders of central origin, Browning, W., 368; rapidly fatal cerebritis resembling cerebro-spinal meningitis, Lloyd, J. H., and Sailer, J., 368; a case of cerebral abscess situated at the posterior part of the external capsule (involving the medullary substance of the first temporal convolution, also the posterior part of the lenticular nucleus and extending into the subthalmic region) with some considerations in regard to the constitution of the external bundle of fibres in the cerebral peduncle, Mills, C. K., and Spiller, W. G., 387; the surgical treatment of focal epilepsy; a critical analysis of the result in nineteen cases, Sachs, B., and Gerster, A. G., 388; a contribution to the pathology of epilepsy and a résumé of the utility of operation in epilepsy, Collins, J., and Wiener, A., 389; a large tumor removed from the brain with wide opening of the lateral ventricle, Keen, W. W., and Thomas, H. M., 389; edema of the eyelids in Graves's disease; thyroidectemy, Booth, J. A., 390; a form of mental disease clinically resembling certain stages of paretic dementia, Spitzka, E. C., 390; nerve disturbance from indigestion, Upson, H. S., 390; report of the committee on neuronymy, 391; toxicosis of the nervous system as a cause of consumption, Mays, T. J., 391; newspaper rabies, Rosse, I. C., 391; epilepsy and other convulsive diseases, a study in neuro-dynamics, Langdon, F. W., 392; remarks on the opportunities and responsibilities of neurological experts with regard to medico-legal testimony, Putnam, J. J., 403, 415; the nature of neurasthenia and its relation to morbid fears and imperative ideas, Knapp, P. C., 407; tumor attached to the cerebellar peduncles and overlying the fourth ventricle, Edes, R. T., 410; a contribution to the study of laryngeal vertigo, Getchell, A. C., 466; myelitis, a case in which the first symptoms appeared several weeks after the supposed cause, Webber, S. G., 469; clinical and pathological report of a case of cerebral syphilis, Brewer, G. E., and Bailey, P., 471; tetany with a report of cases, Lothrop, H. A., 513, 529; the union of neurology and psychiatry, 531; morphology of the cerebral convolutions with special reference to the order of primates, R. T. E., 581; traumatic neuroses, 605; acute anterior poliomyelitis, Courtney, J. W., 617; a case of peripheral polyneuritis following delivery, Cutler, E. G., 620, 625; the etiology of obstetrical paralysis, Walton, G. L., 642; psycho-neural factor in clinical medicine, Hughes, C. H., 656; trunk anesthesia in locomotor ataxia, Patrick, H. T., 656; indications for and demonstrations of removal of the Gasserian ganglion, Murphy, J. B., 657; on the value of a knowledge of neurology, 659; nerve sutures and other operations for injuries to the nerves of the upper extremity, Ochsner, A. J., 679.
Neuralgia. Intradural section of the spinal nerves for neuralgia, Abbé, R., 329, 342.
Neuroglia staining, 147.
Newman, H. P. Woman and her diseases, versus gynecology, 679.
New York during the hot week, 199.
Nicholson, W. P. Ligation of the external carotid artery in conjunction with exsection of the jaws and of the inoperable diseases of the same, 165.
Noriega, A. G. Miasmatic fevers in the State of Sonora, 602.
Noriega, T. Possibilities of contagion from venereal diseases in railway cars, 600.
Nose. A case illustrating a new method of introducing a plate for restoring a depressed nose, Pease, E. A., 84; the significance of a purulent discharge from the nose, Kimball, J. E., 418; an experimental study of the respiratory functions of the nose, Goodale, J. L., 457, 487; the prophylaxis of nasal catarrh, Seiler, C., 497; the operation for deviation of the nasal septum, Watson, A. W., 498; the treatment of atrophic rhinitis, with a case, Porcher, W. P., 498; the sequelæ of syphilis of the nose, Knight, C. H., 501; the control of hemorrhage in some operations on the nose and throat, Coolidge, A., Jr., 501; diseases of the nose and throat in children, Barclay, W. F., 681.
Nucleins and nucleoproteids in their relation to internal secretion, Chittenden, R. H., 184.
Nurses. Nurses and medical morality, 226; trained nurses, 271; trained nurses, Parsons, S. E., 303; the trained nurse, 351.
Obstetrics. Recent progress in obstretrics, Townsend, C. W., 60, 87.
Ochsner, A. J. Nerve sutures and other operations for injuries to the nerves of the upper extremity, 679.
O'Dwyer, J. The evolution of intubation, 197.
Oliver, J. C. Four cases of brain injury, 142.
Orthropraxy. Spasmodic torticollis, with special reference to treatment, Pattee, A. F., 116; principles of treatment of lateral curvature, Brackett, E. G., 229; measurements in spinal curvature, Fitz, G. W., 230; the treatment of club-foot, Thorndike, A., 254; the rationale of gymnastic exercise and pressure connection in the treatment of scoliosis, Weigel, L. A., 267; the rapid cure of rotary lateral curvature of the spine and other postural deformities by means of thorough development and corrective exercises with heavy weights, Teschner, J., 267; spontaneous dislocation of the hip, Taylor, W. J., 268; the definition and scope of orthopedic surgery, Whitman, R., 269; the treatment of abscess in high dorsal caries, Bradford, E. H., 269; suppuration in joint and spinal disease and its relation to tubercular meningitis, an analytical study, Ketch, S., 269; a theory of the ultimate etiology of deformity and its practical application, Whitman, R., 295; femoral osteotomy for correction of hip deformity in adults, with a report of cases, Shands, A. R., 295; mechanical support for flat-foot, Schapps, J. C., 296; some apparatus for the treatment of Pott's disease, Schapps, J. C., 297; the treatment of Pott's paraplegia, Hubbard, LeR. W., 297; the control of the spine by a new method, Tracy, E. A., 340; a method for the gradual reduction of flexion and subluxation of the knee, Young, E. B., 360; on the formation of hallux valgus, Kucher, J., 559;

Orvananos, D. Observations on the cleaning of railroad passenger cars, 600.
Osler, W. The study of the fevers of the South, 45; cerebral complications of Raynaud's disease, 346.
Otis, E. O. The sanitarium or closed treatment of phthisis, 241.
Ovariotomy. The first ovariotomy, 478.
Paget's disease of the nipple, Jackson, G. T., 548.
Palate. A new operation for cleft palate, Brophy, T. W., 656.
Palmer, T. S. Jack rabbit drives, 99.
Paquin, P. The treatment of experimental tuberculosis in animals by the use of blood serum, 657.
Parachutist. Report of a necropsy on a parachutist, 326.
Paralysis. The surgical treatment of spastic paralysis, Bullard, W. N., 240.
Park, R. On susceptibility and immunity, with special reference to surgical cases, 170.
Parsons, S. E. Trained nurses, 303.
Pasteur. Subscriptions for a Pasteur monument, 662.
Patella. A useful method of suturing the fragments of fractured patella, Watson, F. S., 338; a case of secondary suture of the patella, Lund, F. B., 338.
Pathology. Progress in pathology, Wright, J. H., 412.
Patrick, H. T. Trunk anesthesia in locomotor ataxia, 656.
Pattee, A. F. Spasmodic torticollis, with special reference to treatment, 116.
Pease, E. A. A case illustrating a new method of introducing a plate for restoring a depressed nose, 84.
Pediculus. A scientific diagnosis of pediculus pubis, 559.
Pendleton, L. W. Address before Maine Medical Association, 418.
Peritonitis. Tubercular peritonitis, Abbe, R., 145.
Pettijohn, E. S. Some odd bits on constipation: some of its effects and its non-medicinal treatment, 115.
Pfaff, F. Treatment of diabetes mellitus, 234, 245.
Pharmacy. Eighteenth century pharmacy, 47.
Phillips, G. A. Criminal abortion, 418.
Phillips, W. F. R. Sensible temperature, 220.
Phthisis. The treatment of phthisis in sanitaria near our homes, Bowditch, V. Y., 125; the sanitarium or closed treatment of phthisis, Otis, E. O., 241.
Pierce, N. H. Submucous linear cauterization, a new method for reduction of hypertrophies of the conchæ, 678.
Pilcher, L. S. The ambulatory treatment of fractures of the lower extremities, 169.
Pinkham, J. G. Two cases of medico-legal interest, 537.
Pleurisy. Hemorrhagic pleurisy: a study of thirty cases, Sears, G. G., 283, 294.
Pneumonia. Prognosis in pneumonia, Smith, A. H., 23; the prevalence and fatality of pneumonia, Folsom, C. F., 55; pneumonia in Florida, Fremont-Smith, F., 243.
Pocono Plateau, Judd, L. D., 220.
Poison-Ivy, 202.
Porcher, W. P. The treatment of atrophic rhinitis, with a case, 498.
Post, A. Intra-uterine infection of syphilis, 77; post-conceptional syphilis, 448.
Practice. The slowness of obtaining practice, 203.
Pregnancy, affections connected with. Extra-uterine pregnancy from the standpoint of the general practitioner, Boland, E. S., 136, 161; extra-uterine pregnancy, Kelly, H., 141; a case of puerperal eclampsia, 175; delayed union of fracture of the leg in the case of a pregnant woman, Ham, J. R., 310; a case of Porro Cæsarean section, Boyd, G. M., 325; a third series of two hundred consecutive cases of midwifery, Worcester, A., 355, 365; extra-uterine pregnancy in Boston in the last fifteen years, Townsend, C. W., 470; a case of peripheral polyneuritis following delivery, Cutler, E. G., 620, 625; a case of symphyseotomy, Swift, J. B., 621, 626; a case of general septic peritonitis following abortion, Tuttle, A. H., 623; influence of heredity on multiple births, Townsend, C. W., 627; the etiology of obstetrical paralysis, Walton, G. L., 642.
Prentiss, D. W., and Morgan, F. P. Mescal buttons (anhalonium Lewinii), 24.
Prescott, W. H. Arterio-sclerosis, 588, 597.
Preston, G. M. Hemiplegia and dementia, 365.
Prince, M. A case of ideational sadism (sexual perversion), 194.
Prognosis of disease, Duckworth, D., 227.
Psycho-neurol factor in clinical medicine, Hughes, C. H., 656.
Public Health. Infectiousness of milk, Kennedy, J. F., 600; report of the committee on animal diseases and animal food, Salmon, D. E., 600; study of the pathogeny, etiology and prophylaxis of typhus, Bernaldez, F. de P., 600; report of the committee on nomenclature and forms of statistics, Abbott, S. W., 600; report of the committee on car sanitation, 600; observations on the cleaning of railroad passenger cars, Orvananos, D., 600; possibilities of contagion from venereal diseases in railway cars, Noriega, T., 600; address before the American Public Health Association, Liceaga, E., 601; report of the committee on the disposal of garbage and sewage, Hering, R., 601; disposal of the garbage and waste of the household, Morse, W. F., 601; a plea for the domestic disposal of garbage, Wordin, N. E., 601; the nomenclature of diseases and forms of statistics, Liceaga, E., 601; on the need of uniformity in the meaning of the term "still-born," Morjaras, J. E., 601; dengue, Horlbeck, H. D., 601; municipal responsibility for healthy schoolhouses, Richards, E. H., 601; report of the committee on transportation and disposal of the dead, Probst, C. O., 601; the quick or the dead, Lee, B., 602; on measures for the prevention of blindness, Chacon, A., 602; miasmatic fevers in the State of Sonora, Noriega, A. G., 602; summary of sanitary legislation in the State of Mexico, Alvarez, M., 602; obiter dicta concerning sanitary organization, Suiter, A. W., 602; some thoughts relative to sanitary legislation, Wingate, U. O. B., 602; the sanitary administration of unincorporated districts, Mitchell, H., 602; report of the committee on the prevention of the spread of yellow fever, Formento, F., 603; the study of yellow fever from a medico-geographical point of view, Liceaga, E., 603; a contribution to the study of yellow fever in relation to epidemics in Cordova, Mendizabal, G., 603; isolation hospitals, Leal, J. L., 603; report of the committee on the pollution of water supplies, Smart, C., 627; report of the committee on river conservancy boards of supervision, Bryce, P. H., 627; the serum test in typhoid fever, Johnston, W., 627; prophylaxis of typhoid fever, Woodbridge, J. E., 627; the practical use of formic aldehyde as a disinfectant, Robinson, F. C., 627; public health in Tabasco, Muldson, J., 627; report of the committee on the cause and the prevention of diphtheria, Kinyoun, J. J., 628; diphtheria in Chihuahua, Marquez, M., 628; bacteriological diagnosis as covering the admission and discharge of patients in diphtheria hospitals, Shuttleworth, E. B., 628; mortality of children, its causes and means of diminishing it, Garciadiego, S., 628; the bicycle in its sanitary aspect, Gihon, A. L., 628; protection of the innocent from gonorrhea, Valentine, F. C., 629; the Massachusetts health report, 629;
Putnam, J. J. The relations of migraine to neuralgias of the fifth nerve, 22; on periodical neuralgias of the trigeminal nerve and their relation to migraine, with special relation to the intermittent supra-orbital neuralgia, 53, 81; acute non-suppurative hemorrhagic encephalitis, 345; remarks on the opportunities and responsibilities of neurological experts with regard to medico-legal testimony, 403, 415.
Pyorrhea alveolaris; series radiography, Rollins, W., 663.
Quimby, C. E. The treatment of hemoptysis, 221.
Quine, W. E. The remedial applications of bone marrow, 113.
Rabbit. Jack rabbit drives, Palmer, T. S., 99.
Ransom, W. B. Bogus testimonials: a disclaimer, 351.
Raynaud. Cerebral complications of Raynaud's disease, Osler, W., 346.
Recent Progress: Diseases of children, Roteh, T. M., and Wentworth, A. H., 18; obstetrics, Townsend, C. W., 60, 87; chemistry, Hills, W. B., 110; dermatology, Bowen, J. T., 261; gynecology, Reynolds, E., 290, 310; thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., 361; pathology, Wright, J. H., 412; ophthalmology, Standish, M., and Hall, W. D., 493, 522; surgery, Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W., 568, 594, 623; therapeutics, Williams, F. H., 649.
Rectum. The treatment of cancer of the rectum, Adler, L. H., 166.
Registration. The decennial report of the English Registrar-General, Part 1, 577.
Respiratory System. Prognosis in pneumonia, Smith, A. H., 23; the prevalence and fatality of pneumonia, Folsom, C. F., 55; the pulmonary invalid in Colorado, Edson, C. E., 107; the value of the pulmonic second sound, Hall, J. N., 116; the treatment of phthisis in sanitaria near our homes, Bowditch, V. Y., 125; subphrenic abscess and its relation to pyothorax, Beck, C., 140; thoracoplasty in America (Schede's operation) and its relation to pleurectomy, Ferguson, A. H., 140; intra-thoracic tuberculosis, Vander Veer, A., 145; "news, old news," Fisk, S. A., 216; laryngeal vertigo, Knight, F. I., 219; the treatment of hemoptysis, Quimby, C. E., 221; the sanitarium or closed treatment of phthisis, Otis, E. O., 241; a rational basis for prophylactic measures against pulmonary tuberculosis, Bergey, D. H., 241; pneumonia in Florida, Fremont-Smith, F., 243; hemorrhagic pleurisy: a study of thirty cases, Sears, G. G., 283, 294; report on progress in thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., 361; pulmonary tuberculosis, Elliott, G. M., 418; on the treatment of hemoptysis, 450; an experimental study of the respiratory functions of the nose, Goodale, J. L., 457, 487; pleuritic effusions and their treatment, Futterer, G., 679.
Reynolds, E. Progress in gynecology, 290, 310.
Reynolds, J. P. Anesthesia in obstetrics, 382.
Reynolds, Sir J. Russell, as a consultant, 73.
Rheumatism. How to cure rheumatism, Lee, E., 114.
Rice, C. C. Catarrhal laryngitis, 500.
Richards, E. H. Municipal responsibility for healthy school houses, 601.
Richardson, M. H. Remarks upon intestinal obstruction from kinks and flexures as the result of pelvic operations and inflammation, with especial reference to hysterectomies, 32, 43; a new use for the x-rays, 250; another use of skiagraphy, 375; virulent salpingitis, 496.
Riggs, C. E. Paraplegia from hemorrhage into the spinal cord due to pernicious anemia: autopsy, 367.
Robinson, A. R. Annual address before the American Dermatological Association, 547; xanthoma diabeticorum, 551.
Robinson, F. C. The practical use of formic aldehyde as a disinfectant, 627.
Rogers, O. F. Mankind and the doctor, 305.
Rohe, G. H. The purification of public water-supplies, 68.
Rollins, W. An oral camera for Röntgen photography, 90; pyorrhea alveolaris; series radiography, 663.
Rontgen Rays. Practical medical use of the x-ray, Codman, E. A., 50; an oral camera for Röntgen photography, Rollins, W., 90; a new use for the x-rays, Richardson, M. H., 250; a method for more fully determining the outline of the heart by means of the fluoroscope together with other uses of this instrument in medicine, Williams, F. H., 335; another use of skiagraphy, Richardson, M. H., 375; Röntgen rays in the treatment of fractures, 534; dermatitis caused by x-rays, White, J. C., 583; the cause of burns from x-rays, Codman, E. A., and Thomson, E., 610.
Rosse, I. C. Newspaper rabies, 391.
Roteh, T. M., and Wentworth, A. H. Report on diseases of children, 18.
Rovinsky, A. The medical profession in Russia, 151; a case of hypnotic suggestion, 582.
Runge, E. C. A feat of intestinal peristalsis, 110.
Russia. The medical profession in Russia, Rovinsky, A., 151.
Sachs, B., and Gerster, A. G. Operative treatment of partial epilepsy, 326; the surgical treatment of focal epilepsy: a critical analysis of the result in nineteen cases, 388.
Salt River Valley, Arizona, Becker, A. R., 565.
Salzmann. Medical longevity, 74.
Sanchon, E. The exploration of the brain with a needle and syringe through capillary holes drilled through the skull, 165.
Sanitaria. The treatment of phthisis in sanitaria near our homes, Bowditch, V. Y., 125.
Sanitarium or closed treatment of phthisis, Otis, E. O., 241.
Scapula. A case of sarcoma of the scapula, Cabot, A. T., 411.
Schapps, J. C. Mechanical support for flat-foot, 296; some apparatus for the treatment of Pott's disease, 297.
School. The influence of overwork in school in the production of nervous diseases in childhood, Knapp, P. C., 37; baths and bathing at public schools, 70.

Schroeder, H. H. A study of highly-mineralized thermal waters in the treatment of disease, based on experience at the Glenwood Hot Springs, Colorado, 242.
Scudder, C. L. The treatment of caries of the ankle-joint, 287.
Scurvy. Nephritis in infantile scurvy, Thomas, J. J., 230, 244; note on infantile scurvy, Leidy, J., 437.
Sears, G. G. A case of acromegaly treated with thyroid extract, 16; hemorrhagic pleurisy: a study of thirty cases, 283, 294; report on progress in thoracic disease, 361.
Seiler, C. The prophylaxis of nasal catarrh, 497.
Senn, N. Some of the limits of the art of surgery, 64.
Sero-therapy, Withington, C. F., 667, 676.
Serum diagnosis of typhoid fever, 475; serum test as a method of diagnosis for typhoid fever, 532.
Shands, A. R. Femoral osteotomy for correction of hip deformity in adults, with a report of cases, 295.
Shattuck, G. B. Address before the Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 313.
Shepard. State and preventive medicine, 202.
Sherman, H. M. A clinical study of iodoform glycerine in tuberculous osteomyelitis, 269.
Shober, J. B. Two cases of carcinoma of the breast in young adults, 593.
Shuttleworth, E. B. Bacteriological diagnosis as covering the admission and discharge of patients in diphtheria hospitals, 628.
Silver. The doctor, free silver and free everything, 151.
Sinkler, W. Habit chorea, 21.
Skull. Exploration and treatment of fissures from skull fractures, Beach, H. H. A., 141.
Sleep. A method of inviting sleep, 251.
Smal', W. B. Recent progress in the diagnosis and treatment of diphtheria, 419.
Smart, C. Report of the committee on the pollution of water supplies, 627.
Smith, A. H. Prognosis in pneumonia, 23.
Smith, D. Explorations of an American physician, 50.
Smith, T. Address before the Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 318.
Snake-bites. The treatment of snake-bites, Alexander, L. S., 326.
Societies. American Association of Genito-Urinary Surgeons, 471; American Climatological Association, 219, 241; American Dermatological Association, 547, 573; American Laryngological Association, 497; American Medical Association, 44, 49, 64, 113, 140, 164, 556; American Neurological Association, 344, 365, 387; American Orthopedic Association, 267, 295; American Pediatric Society, 6, 197, 398; American Public Health Association, 600, 627; American Surgical Association, 49, 143, 168; Association of American Physicians, 20; Boston Society for Medical Improvement, 445, 494, 527, 572; Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 313; International Medical Congress, 556; Maine Medical Association, 417; Massachusetts Medical Society, 387; Mississippi Valley Medical Association, 655, 678; New York Academy of Medicine, 653; Obstetrical Society of Boston, 43, 365, 470, 625, Pan-American Medical Congress, 506; Suffolk District Medical Society, 90, 244, 265, 293, 341, 441, 597, 674.
Soldiers. Baths, bathing and swimming for soldiers, Chase, H. L., 212, 236.
Sound Money. The doctor a missionary for sound money, 175.
Specialties. Should the increasing tendency to specialties in the medical profession be encouraged, Manning, J. F., 418.
Spine. Principles of treatment of lateral curvature, Brackett, E. G., 229; measurements in spinal curvature, Fitz, G. W., 230; the treatment of abscess in high dorsal caries, Bradford, E. H., 269; the mobility of the normal spine in recumbency, Hall, H. J., 288; the control of the spine by a new method, Tracy, E. A., 340.
Spitzka, E. C. A form of mental disease clinically resembling certain stages of paretic dementia, 390.
Staining. Neuroglia staining, 147.
Standish, M., and Hall, W. D. Recent progress in ophthalmology, 493, 522.
Stedman, H. R. Prognosis and duration of attacks of mental disease, 367, 416.
Stein, A. W. Some forms of non-obstructive ischuria, 473.
Sterilization. Surgical sterilization and sterilizers in private practice, Boeckmann, E., 167.
Stevens, G. B. Nine cases of intubation treated by antitoxin, 42.
Storer, M. A study of axis rotation with especial reference to the torsion of ovarian tumors, 461, 470; on the traumatic rupture of ovarian cysts, with report of a case, 518, 527.
Suicide. Influenza and suicide, 274; a medico-legist on suicide, 374.
Suiter, A. W. Obiter dicta concerning sanitary organization, 602.
Surgery. Some of the limits of the art of surgery, Senn, N., 64; report on surgical progress, Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W., 568, 594, 623.
Susceptibility and immunity with special reference to surgical cases, Park, R., 170.
Swain, H. L. Acute diseases of the lingual tonsil, 501.
Swift, J. B. A case of symphyseotomy, 621, 626.
Syphilis. Intra-uterine infection of syphilis, Post, A., 77; a case of syphilis in mother and child, with unusual history, Harding, G. F., 85; tabes dorsalis and syphilis, 301; does antisyphilitic treatment prevent the occurrence of the diseases of the nervous system which are considered syphilitic in origin? Collins, J., 366; post-conceptional syphilis, Post, A., 448; clinical and pathological notes on syphilis, Fordyce, J. A., 471; clinical and pathological report of a case of cerebral syphilis, Brewer, G. E., and Bailey, P., 471; a case of syphilis of the heart, Coggeshall F., 591, 599.
Symphyseotomy. A case of symphyseotomy, Swift, J. B., 621, 626.
Tabasco. Public health in Tabasco, Muldson, J., 627.
Tabes Dorsalis and syphilis, 301.
Tachycardia, with sudden resumption of normal pulse-rate, Thayer, A. S., 139.
Talk. "The delirium of talk," 662.
Taylor, H. L. Mechanical treatment of ingrown toe-nail, 296.
Taylor, W. J. Spontaneous dislocation of the hip, 268.
Temperature. Sensible temperature, Phillips, W. F. R., 220.
Teschner, J. The rapid cure of rotary lateral curvature of the spine, and other postural deformities, by means of thorough development, and corrective exercises with heavy weights, 267.
Testimonials. Bogus testimonials: a disclaimer, Ransom, W. B., 351.
Tetanus. A case of tetanus: speedy recovery after treatment with tetanus antitoxic serum, Austin, H. W., 289.
Tetany, with a report of cases, Lothrop, H. A., 513, 529.
Thayer, A. S. Tachycardia, with sudden resumption of normal pulse-rate, 139.
Thayer, F. C. Gauze as a means of drainage, 464.
Thayer, W. H. The introduction of ether, 663.
Thomas, J. J. Nephritis in infantile scurvy, 230, 244.
Thompson, H. A wry-necked family, 203.
Thompson, W. G. Experience with the treatment of enteric fever by cold tub-baths, 653.
Thompson, W. H. Painful points in gouty, compared with rheumatic, arthritis, 21.
Thorndike, A. The treatment of club-foot, 254.
Thornton, J. B. Obstruction of the bowels caused by grape skins and seeds, 339.
Thumb-sucking. A new method for the prevention of thumb-sucking in children, Monks, G. H., 673.
Thyroid. Our present knowledge of the interstitial secretion of the thyroid gland, Warren, J. W., 101.
Toe-nail. Mechanical treatment of ingrown toe-nail, Taylor, H. L., 296.
Tonsil. Acute diseases of the lingual tonsil, Swain, H. L., 501; tonsillotomy by cautery dissection, Coulter, J. H., 678.
Townsend, C. W. Recent progress in obstetrics, 60, 87; extra-uterine pregnancy in Boston in the last fifteen years, 470; a bed bath-tub for fever patients, 525; influence of heredity on multiple births, 627.
Toxines. The report of the New York Surgical Society upon erysipelas toxines, 150.
Tracy, E. A. The control of the spine by a new method, 340.
Tuberculosis. Tuberculosis of the female genital organs (including tuberculosis of the kidney), Vander Veer, A., 145; tubercular peritonitis, Abbé, R., 145; intra-thoracic tuberculosis, Fowler, G. R., 145; tuberculosis of the superficial glands, Willard, De F., 146; the treatment of tuberculosis with tuberculin and its derivatives, Worcester, A., 177; the influence of climate on genito-urinary tuberculosis, Munro, J. C., 221; a rational basis for prophylactic measures against pulmonary tuberculosis, Bergey, D. H., 241; tuberculosis of the wrist and carpus, Moore, J. E., 296; pulmonary tuberculosis, Elliott, G. M., 418; a case of tuberculosis of the conjunctiva, probably primary, followed by general infection and death, Cheney, F. E., 490; the treatment of experimental tuberculosis by the use of blood serum, Paquin, P., 657.
Tupper, F. A. The pronunciation of Latin, 663.
Turner, E. B. Bicycle riding for the unsound, 74.
Tuttle, A. H. A case of general septic peritonitis following abortion, 623.
Tuttle, J. P. Two cases of urethral chancre with unusual secondary symptoms, 471.
Typhoid Fever. Serum diagnosis of typhoid fever, 475; serum test as a method of diagnosis for typhoid fever, 532; the serum test for typhoid fever, Johnston, W., 627; prophylaxis of typhoid fever, Woodbridge, J. E., 627; experience with the treatment of enteric fever with cold tub-baths, Thompson, W. G., 653; the treatment of enteric fever by other methods, Manges, M., 654.
Tyson, J. Give the full name of authorities quoted, 479.
Upson, H. S. Nerve disturbance from indigestion, 390.
Urinary System. Further cases illustrative of renal surgery, Watson, F. S., 14; five cases of rupture of the urethra treated by external urethrotomy and suture, Cabot, A. T., 57; carcinoma of right kidney, Johnson, F. W., 59; tumor of the kidney, Whitney, W. F., 63; cases illustrating renal surgery, Watson, F. S., 90; tuberculosis of the female genital organs (including tuberculosis of the kidney), Vander Veer, A., 145; the abortion of gonorrhea and the treatment of other urethral and vesical diseases by hydrostatic irrigations, Valentine, F. C., 166; does additional experience show that castration is a curative remedy in the treatment of hypertrophy of the prostate gland? Cabot, A. T., 168, the treatment of traumatic lesions of the kidney, Keen, W. W., 170; the weather, 172; the treatment of gunshot wounds of the kidney, 172; the influence of climate on genito-urinary tuberculosis, Munro, J. C., 221; nephritis in infantile scurvy, Thomas, J. J., 230, 244; treatment of diabetes mellitus, Pfaff, F., 234, 245; some affections of the female bladder, Garceau, E., 256, 265; suggestion in urinary incontinence, Cullerre, 326; a case of prolonged anuria and a case of complete removal of carcinoma of the neck, Harrington, F. B., 337; address before the American Association of Genito-Urinary Surgeons, Mastin, C. H., 445; five cases of rupture of the urethra treated by external urethrotomy and suture, Cabot, A. T., 445; report of two cases of urethrotomy with transplantation for urethral strictures, Bryson, J. P., 446; good results following urethral resection, Fuller, E., 447; movable kidney, its frequency, its causal relation to certain definite symptoms, the measure of relief afforded by nephrorrhaphy, a new method of applying sutures in the operation, Watson, F. S., 447; two cases of urethral chancre with unusual secondary symptoms, Tuttle, J. P., 471; renal tuberculosis, Brown, F. T., 472; some forms of non-obstructive ischuria, Stein, A. W., 473.
Vaccination. "Practical hints for vaccinators," Macdonald, W. G., 350; final report of the Royal Commission on vaccination, 502; a new vaccine virus in liquid form prepared in the laboratories of the New York Health Department, 557.
Valentine, F. C. The abortion of gonorrhea and the treatment of other urethral and vesical diseases by hydrostatic irrigations, 166; protection of the innocent from gonorrhea, 629.
Vander Veer, A. Tuberculosis of the female genital organs (including tuberculosis of the kidney), 145.
Varney, F. E. Should physicians dispense their own medicines? 419.
Vassar. Some Vassar athletic records, 225.
Vaughan, C. E. Fracture of the first phalanx of the little toe, 583.
Veils. The wearing of veils and its effect upon the eyesight, Wood, C. A., 564.
Vivisection. Preamble and resolutions passed by the American Medical Association, 49, 67; Mr. Lecky on women as antivivisectionists, 150; antivivisection bill for the District of Columbia, 300.

Wadsworth, O. F. Embolism of central artery, macula supplied by a cilio-retinal artery, retention of central vision, 648.
Walcott, H. P. Address before the Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 315.
Walker, H. O. Address before the Mississippi Valley Medical Association, 655.
Walker, J. B. Some of the difficulties of climato-therapy, 219.
Walton, G. L. The etiology of obstetrical paralysis, 642.
Warren, H. E. Case of sarcoma of the neck treated by the Coley antitoxin, 673.
Warren, J. C. Anatomical specimens, 341; a record of the technique of operation for appendicitis from the standpoint of personal experience, 429, 441; acute intussusception in a boy of six, 445; the results of operations for the cure of cancer of the breast, 481, 495, 509; the modern treatment of malignant disease, 665, 674.
Warren, J. W. Our present knowledge of the interstitial secretion of the thyroid gland, 101.
Washburn, G. H. Celiotomy for intestinal adhesions, 41.
Water. The purification of public water-supplies, Rohé, G. H., 68. baths and bathing at public schools, 70; a study of highly-mineralized thermal waters in the treatment of disease, based on experience at the Glenwood Hot Springs, Colorado, Schroeder, H. H., 242; report on pollution of water supplies, Smart, C., 627; on the action of commercial lithia water, Harrington, F. B., 644; water, Love, I. N., 680.
Waterman, J. H. Further observations on the use of hydrochloric acid in bone necrosis of tubercular origin, with report of cases, 270.
Watson, A. W. The operation for deviation of the nasal septum, 498.
Watson, F. S. Cases illustrative of renal surgery, 14, 90; cases of abdominal surgery occurring in the first surgical service of the Boston City Hospital during the four months' summer service of 1895, 188, 258, 281; a useful method of suturing the fragments of fractured patella, 338; movable kidney, its frequency, its causal relation to certain definite symptoms, the measure of relief afforded by nephrorrhaphy, a new method of applying sutures in operation, 447.
Weather. New York during the hot week, 199.
Webber, S. G Myelitis, a case in which the first symptoms appeared several weeks after the supposed cause, 469.
Weber, W. C. Early diagnosis of carcinoma of the stomach by means of chemical analysis of the gastric contents, 115.
Webster, G. A. Othematoma, with report of a case, 358.
Weigel, L. A. The rationale of gymnastic exercise and pressure correction in the treatment of scoliosis, 267.
Welch, W. H. The influence of anesthesia upon medical science, 401.
Wentworth, A. H. Some experimental work on lumbar puncture of the subarachnoid space, 132, 156, 197, 294.
West, G. W. The relation of physical development to intellectual ability, 226.
White, J. C. Dermatitis caused by x-rays, 583.
Whitman, R. The definition and scope of orthopedic surgery, 269; a theory of the ultimate etiology of deformity and its practical application, 295.
Whitney, W. F. Tumor of the kidney, 63.
Whooping-cough. Treatment of whooping-cough by bromoform, 148.
Wilder, B. G. The ectal relations of the right and left parietal and paroccipital fissures, 366.
Wilder, W. H. Subconjunctival injection in the treatment of certain diseases of the eye, 680.
Willard, DeF. Tuberculosis of the superficial glands, 146.
Williams, C. H. A case of extraction of a bit of copper from the vitreous where x-rays helped to locate the metal, 163; two eye specimens, 495.
Williams, E. T. The metric or the duodecimal system, 51.
Williams, F. H. A method for more fully determining the outline of the heart by means of the fluorescope together with other uses of this instrument in medicine, 335; the prevention of the spread of diphtheria by means of the bacterial test, 582; recent progress in therapeutics, 649.
Williams, H. Fracture of the first phalanx of little toe, 441.
Williamson, W. D. Infantile eczema, 418.
Winfield, J. MacF. A favus-like eruption of the oral mucous membrane caused by aspergillus nigrescens, 550.
Wingate, U. O. B. Some thoughts relative to sanitary legislation, 602.
Wirt, W. E. The use of dry heat of high temperature in the treatment of chronic joint affections, 270.
Withington, C. F. Consumptives' homes in public parks, 50; serotherapy, 667, 676.
Wood, C. A. The wearing of veils and its effect upon the eyesight, 564.
Woodbridge, J. E. Prophylaxis of typhoid fever, 627.
Worcester, A. The treatment of tuberculosis with tuberculin and its derivatives, 177; a third series of two hundred consecutive cases of midwifery, 355, 365.
Worcester City Hospital; the Winslow Surgery, 122.
Wordin, N. E. A plea for domestic disposal of garbage, 601.
Wright, J. H. Progress in pathology, 412.
Wry-necked family, Thompson, H., 203.
Wyeth, J. A. Eight cases of laminectomy, 167.
Yellow Fever in Rio de Janeiro, Cleary, 75.
Yersin. Alleged cure for bubonic plague, 301.
Young, E. B. A method for the gradual reduction of flexion and subluxation of the knee, 360.
Zeal, 455.